'You can count on overpass'—Percy

By BILL WINTER

Editor

"You can count on it," U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy said Saturday. "Furling will be assured for a new Granite City traffic overpass at 19th Street, the senator told Mayor Paul Schuler and one of Percy's key backers in this region, Attorney Randall Robertson. Aware of the need to reduce auto congestion and safety hazards at railroad crossings between the Downtown area and West Granite City, Sen. Percy gave assurance that $1,300,000 of existing U.S. Urban Development Action Grant appropriations will be allocated toward the current overpass cost estimate of $5 million. "You are going to get the grant," he said.

"Deaths have occurred and lives have been endangered at the crossings, and persons with heart attacks have been delayed in reaching medical care. This project is extremely important, and you're going to have the funding. We will get it for you," the senator asserted.

In addition to coordinating the processing of the UDAAG application, Percy will personally contact Patricia Harris, secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, he told Mayor Schuler, Robertson and the Press-Record.

With the overpass cost reduced through revision of the design to provide for a two-lane structure, there is hope that the city can seek construction bids by March or April 1979. Sen. Percy pledged immediate action and designated Donna Maddox of his staff as the contact person for the overpass.

Describing the crossing grade separation facility as vital to this community, the 12-year U.S. senator from Illinois recalled his efforts on behalf of a $436 million allocation to build a new Alton lock and dam. He had told a breakfast gathering here Friday that Lock and Dam 26 will proceed quickly despite a pending lawsuit against the project.

"Just three days ago in Peoria, I helped dedicate major federal aid projects to build Decatur-to-Rockford and Peoria-to-Quincy roads," Sen. Percy recalled.

His whirlwind re-election campaign schedule Friday included shaking hands with Granite City Steel employees at the Nash Street gate, participation in a Republican breakfast rally at Charlie's Restaurant a few minutes later, and contacts with voters in East St. Louis, Belleville and Alton.

On Saturday, Sen. Percy attended Alton lock and dam approval festivities at Riverside Park and served as parade marshal at the McKendree College homecoming in Lebanon.

Senator cites experience

U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy is needed in the Senate because of his experience, his seniority and his expertise on business and economic issues affecting wage earners and businessmen, he told more than 50 Quad-Cityans at a campaign breakfast Friday at Charlie's Restaurant.

Through close cooperation with Senate Leader Robert Byrd on a wide range of legislation, Percy has been effective in "sunset" reforms to curb governmental costs, he asserted.

A pioneer in urging deregulation, he views present progress in freeing airlines as a key shining example of a trend that can "get the government out" of many massive bureaucratic activities, "unleashing our great economic system."

Sen. Percy called for yearly strides toward the goal of a balanced federal budget by 1981.

In reducing governmental costs from 23 percent of the gross national product to 20 percent by 1985, the U.S. should concentrate on "no strings" financial help to local governments to ease the property tax burden, he said. Revenue sharing with local-level hearings and decisions has provided $34 billion with virtually no scandals, he added.

"You cannot legislate inflation" but it can be brought under control through sound economic decisions in Washington, the senator said in calling for labor-management consensus on many topics. (Continued on Page 20)

Venice judgment bonds

Venice school officials are considering the use of judgment funding bonds to pay an accumulation of unpaid bills which now has reached $44,000, it was indicated during a meeting of the Venice School Board Thursday night.

The use of such bonds was discussed, but the board took no immediate action pending a further study of the district's worsening financial problems.

Board members approved a resolution authorizing the sale of anticipation warrants for the educational fund which has been hardest hit by the district's fund shortage. School Superintendent Robert Vickers told the Press-Record that the bonds are expected to limit the district to about $450,000 in tax warrants this year, but the district "will need another $500,000 to $600,000 beyond that to get through the school year."

Judgment funding bonds may be issued by tax agencies when creditors obtain court judgments for unpaid bills. The bonds may be issued without referendum and state law provides that a tax may be levied to pay off the bonds.

Vickers said that in addition to about $44,000 in bills, the district still owes $120,000 for anticipation warrants sold last year.

"We have about $150,000 in tax money still coming, but the ($120,000) anticipation warrants will have to be paid out of that," he said, noting that the school district was able to meet the Oct. 27 payroll by using $130,000 in tax money it received several weeks ago.

"But we haven't paid any bills and they

Holiday season trial for sheriff and aide

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Staff Writer
Madison County Sheriff John Maeras and his chief of field operations, Captain John Cooper, who were indicted by a federal grand jury in Springfield Friday on charges of attempting to block a federal investigation into alleged kickbacks in this county, probably will be tried during the Christmas-New Year holiday period, U.S. Attorney Gerald D. Fines told this reporter in Springfield Friday.

The sheriff and Cooper were indicted Friday each on two counts of conspiracy, four counts of giving false and fraudulent statements to the Internal Revenue Service, one count of subornation of perjury and one count of obstruction of justice.

Fines said shortly after the indictments were issued that Maeras and Cooper are to be arraigned in Springfield at 10 a.m. (Continued on Page 6)

Probe continuing

The indictment Friday of Madison County Sheriff John Maeras and his chief aide may be only another step in a long chain of federal investigative activity focused on Madison County law enforcement personnel and other persons.

U.S. Attorney Gerald Fines stressed Friday that the comprehensive investigation into possible corruption is continuing beyond the July convictions of three former Madison city policemen and the late-October indictments of Maeras, who is 52 years old and Captain John Cooper, 51.

Although Fines has never disclosed what started the federal probe into the county level of government, many sources agree that discovery of a letter allegedly written by Lieutenant Gary Lee Burns, "to whom it may concern," and then hidden, may have played a key role in convincing the Federal Bureau of Investigation to look into the sheriff department.

Burns testified before a federal grand jury in June 1977 that he had written a letter accusing Sheriff Maeras of accepting payoffs from business establishments, but he told the grand jury that

Miss Johnson dies

Miss Jeri Sue Johnson, 21, who was injured seriously in a traffic accident at Nameoki and Pontoon Roads on Oct. 12, died in Firmin DeLoe Hospital, St. Louis, at 6:45 p.m. Friday.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur (Eulah) Johnson and was treasurer of the Jack Johnson Music store at 3250 Nameoki Road where she also taught flute and piano.

Miss Johnson was a senior at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, majoring in music. She was a member and deaconess at First Presbyterian Church in Granite City and was a member of Pi Kappa Lambda honorary society.

Laclede earnings rise

Laclede Steel Co. had net earnings of $901,000 for the third quarter ending Sept. 30, compared to a loss of $370,000 for the same period a year ago, and net earnings of $2,043,000 for the nine months of this year compared to a loss of $6,176,000 for the same period in 1977. Paul Akin, president, reported to stockholders Thursday.

Net sales during the third quarter were $53,210,000, up from $42,913,000 for the third quarter last year, Akin reported. He said this brought to $156,155,000 the total sales for the nine-month period, up from $123,200,000 for the same period last year.

Net earnings amounted to 57 cents per share for the third quarter ending Sept. 30, compared to a loss of 22 cents last year.

Earnings for the nine-month period amounted to 1.79 per share compared to a loss of $3.74 per share.

In a statement to stockholders, Akin said: "Our net earnings for the third quarter of $951,000 are somewhat less than I had anticipated in my letter to you of July 27, 1978. Although our earnings for August and September were planned, July results fell short and reduced the third quarter accordingly. "At present, demand for our products continues to be strong. We anticipate lower shipments in November and December, however, as there are fewer shipping days and as customers attempt to hold down year-end inventories.

"For these reasons, we expect fourth quarter earnings from operations will be just under those of the third quarter. I am not able to predict what our 1979 first quarter earnings might be, because it is difficult to foresee how President Carter's inflation control program will impact the steel industry in general, and Laclede specifically."

Assuring a safe Halloween

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
 Madison County Extension
 Adviser, Home Economics

The excitement of Halloween may overshadow certain dangers. Parents have a responsibility to keep this special time fun and safe.

Older children can often go "trick or treating" alone or in groups. However, parents need to make sure they know where their children plan to go. Reminding them to show courtesy at doors and to show special consideration to younger children helps keep Halloween fun for all.

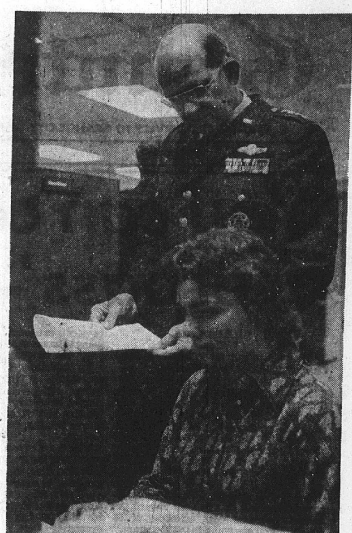

An adult or older brother or sister should always accompany young children who go out on Halloween. Even in their own neighborhood, young children may get lost after dark. The unfamiliar sight of other costumed children and darkness may be frightening to them. In addition, there is always the danger of extra street traffic and older youngsters harrassing younger ones.

For safety's sake, children should wear light-colored clothing or have reflective tape on their costumes in several locations. They should also carry a flashlight and older

Be sure to instruct children to bring all their treats home before sampling them. This way parents can check treats to be sure all are edible and safe.

Allowing children to visit only the homes of relatives, friends, and neighbors you know may be a wise precaution to insure the safety of the goodies collected.

Suspect held in shooting death

Major Case Squad investigators trying to solve the gangland-style slaying of Don Ellington, Collinsville bartender who was shot to death during an apparent rendezvous near Festus, Mo., have made an arrest in the case but have not yet filed charges, it was reported by officers today.

An agent of the Illinois Department of Investigation said a suspect was picked up in the shooting Friday night, but that no charges have yet been filed. The man is held in the St. Clair County Jail, he said.

Investigators reported last week that they were making progress in the investigation and that they believed an arrest was near.

Ellington, 47, a bartender at Cahokia Downs race track, was shot three times in the head in his car on a Missouri side road just off Interstate 55 in Jefferson County, Mo. Ellington was among witnesses who appeared before a federal grand jury earlier this year at a time when the jury was investigating alleged corruption in Madison County.

Investigators say they believe the Ellington slaying is linked with the shooting of Dennis McIntosh of State Park Place who was admitted to Memorial Hospital Oct. 24, two days after Ellington was killed.

McIntosh was shot in the stomach. He has refused to give police information and has given several different versions of how he was shot, officers said.

Probe cause of fire at hospital garage

Granite City police and fire investigators are studying the cause of a fire which destroyed a vehicle parked on the third floor of the St. Elizabeth Hospital parking garage, 21st and Iowa streets, at 7:15 p.m. Saturday.

Witnesses said they saw two youths in their early to mid-teens, run from the parking garage and an explosion occurred moments later.

Among the witnesses was Granite City Steel security officer who was directing traffic around a train derailment at 20th and Omaha streets, which occurred about 6 p.m. Saturday. A steel company coal train derailed, spilling coal on the roadway, authorities said. The witnesses identified one of the boys seen running away and police questioned two youths and their parents a short time after the fire. They were released pending additional investigation.

Granite City firemen required 20 minutes to extinguish the flames in the station wagon of Larry Unfried, 212 Briarwood Drive. The vehicle was gutted and was considered a complete loss.

Nov. 25 park election?

A Saturday, Nov. 25, election date is likely to be set by the Granite City Park District board during a meeting at 7 tonight.

The special election involves a request for voter approval of a major improvement program, including new playground and tennis facilities at several parks, replacement of the deteriorated Wilson Park swimming pool, work on the ice skating rink and other projects.

An E.C. 2 date was discussed in recent weeks but existing state law requires such a referendum to take place this month or wait until the April 1979 elections.

The law consolidating Illinois elections into five dates each year was approved two years ago. Of two 1979 bills seeking to delay its effective date, one was vetoed and the other was amended and hasn't yet been reviewed by the General Assembly. The park proposal has been challenged by some tax-conscious residents, who say they would prefer a smaller construction program, or individual elements rather than a package.

Park officials say the pool must be replaced, that a year-around pool facility would be impossible, and that a proposed wave action pool design and a full risk enclosure can improve the swimming and skating operations financially.

Police checking motorist who carried $2,920

Granite City police were holding a 20-year-old St. Louis man today after his car was stopped for speeding early this morning and pills, marijuana and a large amount of cash were found.

Officers said the car was stopped for going 65 miles-per-hour on Madison Avenue at 25th Street in a 35 m.p.h. zone. The driver had rolls of money in both pockets which totaled over $2,920, police said.

A plastic bag containing a small amount of marijuana was allegedly found in his clothing and a prescription bottle containing two pills was found in the car.

Officers checked with Missouri authorities who alleged the man is on probation for burglary and stealing. He said he was leaving Rico's II Lounge when arrested.

Officials at the lounge were contacted and said they did not believe any money was missing. They said the man is a frequent customer and usually carries a large amount of money.

Pre-employment materials to other regions

Pre-employment materials used by the Granite City High Schools in preparing students to apply for jobs have been requested by the state for use in 11 regional centers of the East and West Central Curriculum Management Center. The materials have been sent to the ECCMC by Roy McConkey, vocational counselor of the Granite City School District who designed the materials. It was reported last week.

The regional centers in turn will share these materials with all the school districts in six states. The East Central Curriculum Management Center is one of six centers established by the United States Office of Education, Bureau of Occupational and Adult Education Curriculum Branch. The other centers are located in Washington, California, New York, Mississippi and New Jersey.

All six centers have as their primary goal the coordination of curriculum products and information to be more appropriately spent. Each center has a set of objectives to achieve this goal and to disseminate curriculum products and information to the members states reserved by each center. The ECCMC serves the regional states of the United States Office of Education Regions III and V. The ECCMC collects and publishes information on curriculum under development in each state to keep educators apprised of what curriculum products will be available in the near future.

The ECCMC, in addition to sharing with regional states copies of materials recently produced throughout the U.S., helps an extensive collection of materials that are not widely available.

Illinois' unemployment figures dropped to 5.1 percent from the August statistic of 6 percent, says the Illinois Bureau of Employment Security (BES) of the Illinois Department of Labor. ## Bullet fired, falls onto leg of C. E. Boushard; he later hits newsmen

The home of former Venice Building Inspector John Boushard, 433 Lincoln Ave., was fired upon at approximately 12:15 a.m. Friday.

Boushard had served until Oct. 24 as building inspector. He has moved to Granite City and was almost moved out completely when the shots were fired.

One bullet, believed fired from a .357 magnum pistol, shattered the storm door glass, went through the front door and then through the living room wall. It ricocheted off a south bedroom wall, struck the north bedroom wall and fell harmlessly on the left leg of Clement E. Boushard, father of John Boushard.

A second bullet struck the house near the roof. At 8:10 a.m. Friday, a Press-Record reporter, arriving at the scene, was verbally criticized by Mrs. Marcella Boushard, mother of John. The elder Boushard, without provocation, struck the report, breaking his glasses.

Venice police restrained C. E.

Boushard, who threatened harm to the reporter in the presence of the police.

"They are an elderly couple and obviously were upset over the shooting incident and the way some news media have been presenting recent incidents," the reporter commented.

The younger Boushard apologized for his parents. "I am sorry and will pay for the damages," Boushard said. "The Press-Record, of all the news media, has given the most accurate coverage to everything that has been going on down here. I don't know what got into Dad."

The younger Boushard has been the center of criticism for putting a "condemned" sign on a frame residence at 1242 Robin St., Venice, which later burned down and now is the object of federal, state and local arson investigations.

The fire destroyed a vacant dwelling there on Oct. 7. It was in the process of being renovated by a family that had paid a down payment to purchase it.

Woman hurt seriously in accident

Miss Margaret Cooke, 19, of 4620 Lake Drive, was seriously injured in an auto accident early Friday at the curve on Route 203 and East Chain of Rocks Road and was transferred from St. Elizabeth Hospital to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, with multiple injuries, including head injuries.

State troopers reported Miss Cooke's auto went out of control at 12:50 a.m. Friday and struck a utility pole, damaging the pole and pinning her in the car.

Rescue workers from the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department had to free her from the vehicle and she was taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

She was treated here for bruises and swelling to her right hand, a cut to her right leg, a bump to her head, chest trauma and other injuries.

Her right arm was splinted. X-rays were taken and she was transferred to the St. Louis hospital.

Darryl Lorenzo Little, who weighed six pounds, seven ounces, was delivered by Dr. Yogendra Shah at 6:28 a.m. Oct. 1 at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Making the presentation to the mother was Miss Carol Meyer, Madison County pork queen.

He said the Occupational Safety and Health Administration has assured the Steelworkers that the long-delayed OSHA standard on lead will be available for the meeting — a major purpose of which is to explain the standard and assist USWA lead workers in implementing its details.

HOUSE HIT BY SHOTS

Six bullets were fired into the house of Willis Bailey, 2847 Harding Ave. It was reported at 4 p.m. Friday. The next day, he said, he discovered six bullet holes in the house, three in the front and three in the rear.

designed to confuse federal authorities investigating payoff allegations. They are accused not only of lying before the Internal Revenue Service, but also of convincing Grzywacz and Lieutenant Gary Lee Burns to lie to authorities, including a federal grand jury. The indictment charges that Maers and Cooper agreed to falsely tell agents of the IRS that Grzywacz had been recruited to determine whether or not Madison County deputies were soliciting and receiving bribes and kickbacks from operators of houses of prostitution, taverns, service stations and towing companies. Grzywacz allegedly was a part of the conspiracy, but was "abandoned" by the others as the federal investigation broadened. One source close to Cooper indicated various statutes of limitations may have played a part in the grand jury's consideration of charges. The indictment appears to indicate that prosecution of Grzywacz, Goclan and Krieschok was necessary before final consideration could be given to developing a case against Maers and Cooper. Grzywacz, Goclan and Krieschok, however, were excused from testifying before last week's grand jury, since they are appealing their July convictions and could be placed in a "double jeopardy" situation had they testified. Attorneys for the three explained in briefs to the judge last week that there is no protection in the law against perjury, including a grant of immunity, since the

He said briefly in his resignation letter, "I have enjoyed being a part of this community and the school board." Boushard accepted the meeting until the board accepted his resignation as one of the first order of business, and then left. The board took no action to fill the vacancy and members agreed that an appointment should be delayed until after the Nov. 7 general elections. Board members also delayed for another 20 days a decision as to whether the district should purchase a third bus for the public school. Vickers explained that acquisition of a law states that granting immunity in return for testimony does not give that witness the right to lie under oath. Also, since perjury is a crime committed the moment the words are spoken, each testimony could be a separate crime, even if the witness was testifying a second time on the same subject. U.S. Judge J. Waldo Ackerman then excused the three from testifying, since their attorneys contended the three believed their testimony before the 1977 grand jury was accurate, and they would testify before last week's grand jury. The convictions and sentences of Grzywacz, Goclan and Krieschok are being appealed in the U.S. Appellate Court at Chicago. Briefs of that appeal now are being filed. Grzywacz faces 12 years in prison and the other two face seven-year sentences, if the appeals are unsuccessful. If Maers and Cooper are convicted on all counts, they could receive maximum sentences of 40 years in prison and fines totaling $67,000 each, Fines said. The case was presented to the grand jury by First Assistant U.S. Attorney Thomas W. Turner, Case No. 72-100, Department of Justice in Washington, and Fines. All three were involved in the prosecution of Grzywacz, Goclan and Krieschok. Criminal summons notifying Maers and Cooper to appear Wednesday morning for arraignment were to be served on the indictments and were to be served on the two Friday afternoon.

third bus would eliminate the fees paid for renting another bus when backup service is needed. The school district paid $2,000 in such fees last year, he said. Vickers explained that under new regulations passed by the Board of Technical center which are financed with title fund money hereafter must be used only for adult education purposes. The technical center has three buses which in the past were available for use by the public school for transportation to athletic events and other school activities. The board hired to teachers, Larry Ward for high school social studies, and Greg Gifford as a seventh-grade teacher. Board Member Jack Tolliver was selected as a delegate and George Wade as alternate to attend the Illinois School Board convention in Chicago Nov. 17 to 20.

3 officers admit rules violations
The charges were filed by Chief of Police Ronald J. Velzer and the three officers were suspended from duty Oct. 11, pending Saturday's hearing. A special meeting of the board of commissioners has been called for 10:30 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 11, at city hall, at which time appropriate discipline will be decided, Miller said. An investigation into the Sept. 28 disturbance indicated the three officers had been at a party at the Wild Pair Lounge on Route 157 in Centerville and they argued with security guard Howard E. Fink Jr. As the car containing the three officers left the parking lot, shots were fired, it is alleged. Duncan was shot in the head, but escaped serious injuries and has recuperated.

Aid for Nameoki drainage, Honor Korte, Miss Dunn

roads, traffic is sought

Nameoki Township Supervisor Harold Davis, frustrated by the township's inability to provide proper drainage, roads and other needs, has launched a letter-writing campaign, seeking help from federal and state legislators.

In a letter to U.S. Senators Charles Percy and Adlai Stevenson III and U.S. Congressman Melvin Price, Davis detailed some of the problems confronting the township. The text follows:

"Speaking as supervisor of Nameoki Township and for the Township Board of Trustees, I would appreciate it, if you would consider some of the problems of this township. We are located in the southern portion of Madison County bordering the industrial city of Granite City.

"We have been in office a little over a year now and have run into the frustration of trying to meet the needs of the people but with little capital to do it with. Through the years, with the help of revenue sharing and community development funds, we have accomplished some improvements on our own but we are in need of considerably more help.

"I realize that government is trying to cut costs but we also know that there are millions of dollars being spent throughout the world by our government and we would just like to see some of it spent here, where it is needed so desperately. It is our hope that you will take a serious look at the problems mentioned below.

"An overpass over the railroad tracks at the junction of Highway 162 and Maryville Road is needed. When trains have to cross this crossing, which, as you can imagine, is quite often, it is especially frustrating for people going to and from their work in Granite City and for people driving the emergency vehicles going to the Granite City hospital. In order to avoid these tracks, these people have to travel approximately 10 or 15 miles out of the way, rather than being able to go across these tracks.

"Secondly, and probably most important, is the need for hillside and storm water runoff drainage for this area. This has been kicked around at the local, state and federal level for over 30 years and nothing but surveys have come out of it. This kind of project cannot be handled at the local level and must be taken care of by 'big brother.'

"I just wish there was some way that I could express to you how urgently we feel that plans should be started to rectify this problem. I hope you will take our concerns seriously and relate back to us your thoughts on these matters."

Proper drainage also is the major concern in a letter Davis has sent to state officials, including State Representatives Jim McKee, Everett E. Steele, E. E. Lucio, Monroe L. Flinn, representative candidate Sam W. Wolf and State Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene.

The text follows:

"This township board has been in office now over a year and has been frustrated by its township people to try and correct or improve certain conditions here. We, as a board and the people, are marking on these problems at the local level.

"Enclosed is a letter we have sent to the Department of Transportation, not only to the problems that only they, or you, as our representative can help us with, but also to these problems.

"In addition to these problems, I wish to discuss with you a monstrous problem which has been kicked around and ignored for over 30 years. That being the hillside and storm water runoff drainage of this area. We are deeply concerned about the citizens and their property if proper drainage is not provided in our area.

"How can our area grow, and why not new big business and industry locate here? But everyone knows that someday we will be faced with a flood situation that our present drainage cannot possibly handle.

"To my knowledge, other than some surveys taken, there has been no plan for drainage in this area. Our one source of drainage is Horseshoe Lake. What a mess this situation has become! Without being dredged, the lake will soon become unusable.

"This problem of drainage in our area has been put off far too long. I just wish there was some way I could express to you how urgently we feel that plans should be started to rectify this problem. I hope you will take our concerns seriously and relate to us your thoughts on these matters.

The letter Davis referred to the Department of Transportation was sent Oct. 6 to District Eight in East St. Louis. It follows:

"Once again, I am writing to you about some serious concerns we, as Nameoki Township, have about the Illinois road system that runs through our township. These concerns are brought to light by many phone calls to this office and complaints voiced at our township meetings.

"I do not understand why we have to have a certain number of accidents or deaths for the state Department of Transportation to take action on a particularly bad road situation.

"The places of concern include Route 203 at the turnoff for Cloverleaf and Eagle Park subdivisions. There definitely needs to be turnoff lanes and traffic lights for the automobiles and school buses to make this intersection safe.

"There is much talk about new overpasses in this area, and they are probably all necessary, but we also need one at Highway 162 and Maryville Road where Highway 162 crosses several sets of railroad tracks. People traveling to and from work and numerous emergency vehicles are tied up consistently at this crossing.

"At the intersection of Highway 162 and Highway 111, there is a traffic-stump every day. Sometimes, it might take 10 minutes or more to get through it.

"Also, we are concerned about the heavy truck traffic on Highway 111. There is much talk these days about what railroads are transporting, but on this highway, every day there are hundreds of trucks marked 'explosives,' 'toxic,' 'flammable,' 'dangerous,' and 'others, going from a four-lane to a narrow two-lane road.

"We are still hopeful that you will reconsider the dangerous intersection of Maryville Road and Morrison Road. We believe there is a definite need for better traffic control there. We appreciate what you have done up to now but feel it just is not adequate.

"A copy of this letter is being sent to our local state legislators along with a request for them to possibly look into these situations."

Area residents still have time to participate in several "armchair travel" class sessions at the local YMCA - meetings especially designed for senior citizens.

The classes are open to all. They are held each Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 3:30. The Oct. 31 class will feature Christodoulos Harrous, currently enrolled as a student at SIUE, who will describe his homelands of Cyprus and Greece.

Harrous will enhance his talk with slides and articles. Future classes will explore Vietnam, Nov. 14; Venezuela, Nov. 21; and Jordan, Nov. 28. The fee is $1 for the entire course.

One who has attended previous sessions said, "What a wonderfully inexpensive and interesting way to see other parts of the world through the eyes of people who were born and raised there."

The classes are presented by SIUE international students under the auspices of the Metro East Extension Institute of Lifetime Learning in cooperation with Lewis and Clark Community College, Belleville Area College and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Voting, joint services, low prices and yellow fever in state's 'good old days'

Illinois' most notable events of November a century ago were the off-year election and the union church services that marked the Thanksgiving Day observances.

There were more than enough other happenings, however, to fill the pages of the November 1878 newspapers in the collections of the Illinois State Historical Library.

Illinois' only statewide official election on Nov. 5, 1878, was the state treasurer, Republican John C. Smith of Joliet County. The real contest was for control of the legislature which, after taking office in January, would elect a U.S. senator.

Gen. John A. Logan, who had campaigned all over the state for Republicans, was rewarded by election to his second term in the Senate.

Incidentally, six political parties entered the Cook County elections: the Republican, Democratic, Greenback, National, Socialist and Prohibition parties.

The Greenbackers entered candidates in many counties in the hope of electing enough legislators to control the senatorial choice, but they came up short. The election was described by Springfield's Daily Illinois State Register as "quiet and peaceful."

On Thanksgiving Day, there were a number of union church services in Chicago: the Fourth Baptist Church was host to other congregations on the city's west side; on the south side, the Second Presbyterian Church was the meeting site for the area's Presbyterians, Congregationalists and Methodists.

The First Congregational Church was host to the St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal congregation, while the Third Presbyterian Church was the host, in Ottawa it was the Methodist Church, in Dixon the Presbyterian, and in Mendota the United Brethren Church.

Throughout the state, union services were also popular: in Springfield, the Second Presbyterian Church was the host, in Ottawa it was the Methodist Church, in Dixon the Presbyterian, and in Mendota the United Brethren Church.

The weather on Thanksgiving Day was described by the Chicago Inter Ocean as clear and "mildly bracing" as it had been for most of the month, with temperatures in the 40s and 50s. In Springfield, "Thanksgiving turkey sold for 9 cents per pound and the Thanksgiving beef for 15 cents." Earlier in the month, the Register had noted that "fat hogs are worth $3 per 100 pounds, live weight."

Among the other events in Illinois during November 1878 was the death (on the eleventh) of Abraham Lincoln's friend, Norman B. Judd.

Born in Rome, N. Y., Jan. 10, 1818, Judd had come to Chicago in 1838. He had served as city attorney, Cook County attorney, Chicago alderman and — for 16 years — as a state senator. He was president, director, or attorney for more than half a dozen railroads.

Judd had a major role in Lincoln's Presidential nomination. One of Lincoln's first acts as President was to appoint him minister to Prussia.

Although he was replaced by President Andrew Johnson, Judd then served two terms as an Illinois representative in Congress. He had invested his "whole personal fortune" in a Colorado silver mining operation, and — according to his obituary in the Inter Ocean — "fell a victim" of "the panic of 1873" and "from that time he has been retired in life."

Other events of that month included the opening of the new courthouse in Peoria with a banquet, speeches and a "grand reception and promenade concert."

In Springfield, "Prof. Woodie's Bohemian Troupe of Fancy Glass Blowers" gave an exhibition. The yellow fever epidemic which had plagued the south for three months and threatened Illinois had abated, but New Orleans reported 29 fever deaths for the week ending Nov. 17.

And "Pat Rooney's New York Star Combination," which "did a good business and afforded alimony to the gods" at Haverly's theater in Chicago early in the month, scheduled a one-night stand later at the Opera House in Springfield.

Thoughts about our language

(First in a series of articles sponsored by the SIUE Department of English, designed to offer information about grammar and usage.)

By GARRY N. MURPHY
INTERPERSONAL — We are hearing more and more these days about "interpersonal relationships" and "interpersonal communications."

Even the dictionaries are making room for "interpersonal," explaining that the term means "between persons." Wow!

Is the prefix "inter" really needed for clarity? Do we need it to distinguish one kind of personal relationship or communication from another — one that is personal but NOT interpersonal?

Intrapersonal, perhaps? Or is the word just decked out with the prefix in order to make it sound more exotic, more technical, more academic? I await enlightenment.

CENTER AROUND — "The case centers around who should have custody of the children." It does not. Things center ON, not AROUND.

You can prove this by getting out a compass (draftman's, not mariner's) and trying to draw a circle with the fixed leg centered AROUND a point. The English language — sometimes stubbornly refuses to be logical, but not here.

Send your questions to Prof. Garry Murphy, Department of English, Box 43, SIUE, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026.

Vote on continued corporate personal tax vital to schools

Illinois public school districts face the real threat of losing nearly $500 million should the Nov. 7 Blue Ballot proposal fail to pass.

That was the message carried by Illinois Education Association President Mel Smith and Illinois Association of School Boards President Jonathan Howe at a series of fly-in news conferences last week.

The issue facing Illinois voters is a state constitutional amendment which would remove the deadline for abolition and replacement of the existing personal property tax on corporations.

The proposed change would eliminate the Jan. 1, 1979, deadline. It would render voluntary, rather than mandatory, the requirement that the legislature abolish the personal property tax on corporations.

Smith indicated that the IEA, IASB and many other groups are "urging all citizens to vote 'yes' on the Blue Ballot proposal."

He said that a "no" vote "would plunge Illinois schools into financial chaos, stripping away any fiscal or educational progress achieved over the past three decades."

IASB Chief Howe asserted that failure to pass the Blue Ballot proposal would create a "staggering total loss" to the state of $76,500,000. He explained that education would lose 57.8 percent of the total amount, or $443 million.

Both agreed that such a loss would trigger a crippling disaster in public education throughout the state.

"The ballot must pass," Smith said, "and our organizations are pledging their collective energies to that end."

The 1970 Illinois Constitution provided that all personal property tax be abolished by Jan. 1, 1979. Howe explained.

The tax on individuals was removed 10 years ago. On the other hand, the personal property tax on corporations, partnerships and trusts remained as a major revenue source for cities and towns, school districts, counties and other local government units.

In addition to abolishing the personal property tax on businesses, the state constitution required the Illinois General Assembly to replace lost revenue with a new tax.

"Without an amendment to permit continuation of the personal property tax on corporations, the major portion of this tax burden would have to be shifted to other revenue sources. Or, massive reductions in government service would become necessary," Howe contended.

The Blue Ballot proposal would make the abolition of corporation property tax optional rather than mandatory. Passage of the ballot would not create or add a new tax. It would merely continue the existing tax on corporations, pending other arrangements.

Estimated 1979 extensions for corporation personal property taxes — potential losses should the Blue Ballot fail — include $14,317,198 in Madison County and $524,923,637 in Cook County.

Traffic blocked, driver arrested. Edward A. Cornwell, 23, of 1120 Greenwood St., Madison, was charged with driving while intoxicated after he allegedly was found asleep in his car, blocking traffic on the railroad tracks at 19th Street and Edwardsville Road at 11:30 a.m. Thursday.

Officers alleged his auto was blocking two lanes of traffic at the crossing and they were unsuccessful in attempts to wake him. A Granite City ambulance was called and took Cornwell to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Authorities said he declined to be treated and was taken to the Granite City Jail, where he was charged.

CLASS ON ARTHRITIS "Coping with arthritis" will be the topic of a class for arthritis patients. Psychologist Jack McWay, Ph.D., will discuss psychological components of arthritis and help patients learn ways to cope with arthritis. The class will be held Nov. 14 from 1 to 2:30 p.m. at Firmin Desloge Hospital, 1325 S. Grand, where easiest access is from the Vista Avenue side.

RAILWAY DIVIDEND Norfolk and Western Railway Company's board of directors last week declared a regular quarterly dividend of 46 cents per share of common stock, payable Dec. 11 to stockholders of record on Nov. 3.

24-hour answering service at SIUE

Residents of this region may now call the University Information Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville any time of the day or night.

A new telephone answering service has been implemented to provide a 24-hour information-answering system for the University. The number to call is 692-2700. Office hours have also been extended to evenings and Saturdays.

Annette Mulvany Graebe, coordinator of the University Information Center, believes the center is providing an "important information service to the people of Southern Illinois University and beyond."

The service is designed to answer questions about campus-related activities and events, and an objective of the center is to provide adequate information so that callers do not have to be "shuttled" from place to place, Mrs. Graebe said.

Questions are answered by telephone during office hours: Monday through Thursday between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m.; Friday, between 8 a.m. and 9 p.m.; and Saturday, from 10

Confederate graves at Vicksburg to be marked

Things may not be going so well in some parts of the world but another step is being taken to improve North-South relations, 115 years after their armies stopped firing at each other.

The latest in detente between Union and Confederate is this: more than 1,600 graves of rebel soldiers killed during the Battle of Vicksburg soon will be marked for the first time—with headstones provided by the U.S. government.

The graves are in a special three-acre plot in the Vicksburg City Cemetery, and owned and maintained by the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

In 1906, Congress authorized stones to mark Confederate graves in national cemeteries

Candidate endorsements

Nine Illinois candidates have received formal endorsement from the Political Action For Candidate Election (PACE) committee, an independent trust of the 80,000 member National Association of Social Workers (NASW).

The two Republicans endorsed by PACE are: Sen. Charles H. Percy, seeking re-election to the U.S. Senate, and Rep. John B. Anderson, seeking re-election from the 16th district.

The four Democrats, who are seeking re-election to the House are: Ralph Metcalf, 1st district; Cardis Collins, 7th district; Sidney Yates, 9th district; and Abner Mikva, 10th district.

Those Democrats seeking a first term in the House are: Andrew Thomas, 4th district; Clifford Sinclair, 17th district; and Terry Bruce, 22nd district.

In a recent NASW-analysis of Congressional voting records on 10 bills, the PACE-endorsed Illinois incumbent candidates voted with NASW-supported legislation over 90 percent of the time.

Based on such legislation as the ERA deadline extension, Full Employment Act and Domestic Violence Assistance Act, three of the Congressmen voted with the Association 90 percent of the time, with Percy and Mikva voting with NASW, 60 and 70 percent, respectively.

Driver attitude is factor in accidents

BY TROOPER
JAMES G. GALLO
Illinois State Police, Maryville

"Traffic accidents," why do they continue to happen? There is no simple answer or solution. Traffic Safety Experts have concluded that there are many factors which can contribute to an accident, such as weather, roads, traffic, vehicle condition, driver and driver attitudes.

Since most traffic accidents happen because a traffic law has been violated, then we can say that driver and driver attitude are extremely important factors to consider if we are to reduce accidents.

Voluntary compliance of all traffic laws will reduce the number of accidents. The Illinois State Police have and will continue strict enforcement of all traffic laws in an effort to achieve this goal.

During the months of July, August and September, 1978, Illinois State Police Officers in District Eleven made 17,548 contacts for traffic violations. Effective Sept. 1, 1978, the Illinois State Police re-implemented (CTEP) Concentrated Traffic Enforcement Program, a federal funded program, to further help reduce traffic accidents.

During the month of September, District Eleven troopers working CTEP made an additional 717 contacts for traffic violations. During October, an additional 366 contacts were made by troopers working CTEP.

Disobedience to traffic laws can kill you. It can cause your arrest. Obey the law, drive safe, it saves lives.

Fastest growth at local college

Preliminary enrollment figures for the state's 39 community college districts indicate that Belleville Area College has experienced the largest headcount growth of any of the state's regular community college campuses.

Elsewhere, John Wood, a relatively new "college without walls," is expanding rapidly during its first few years of operation. According to figures released by the Illinois Community College Board, headcount enrollment at BAC increased 21.4 percent compared to an overall reduction in the state of six percent.

Dr. William R. Keel, president of Belleville Area College, pointed out, however, since they do not reflect the early drops. "He added, though, that after the drops were eliminated from the semester count, the local college still has experienced a 13 percent headcount increase this fall, over last fall.

Dr. Keel credits much of the increase to the highly successful adult basic education program — funded jointly by the state and federal government — which is providing free General Educational Development preparation classes to several hundred of the district's residents.

Martha Giordano, department chairman for adult basic education, has applied for a supplemental grant to continue the program as a result of the overwhelming response it has received. "It is apparent that Belleville Area College is answering a tremendous need in this region," Dr. Keel said. "I cannot speak too highly of the work that Mrs. Giordano has done, or of the cooperation BAC has had from the district's regional superintendents and from the Department of Education at the state level."

Enrollment this fall, after student drops were subtracted from the preliminary 11,562 figure, remains at 10,800, compared to 9,538 in the fall of 1977.

The actual headcount increase, 1,262, is the largest of any of the colleges in the state outside of Chicago.

Lake County had an increase of 1,108 students; Thornton, 1,219; College of Dupage, 900; and John Wood, 850.

Kaskaskia had an increase of 224 and Rend Lake increased by 133 students.

Investigate rape report

Madison police are investigating the report by a mother of a 16-year-old girl that the girl was raped during a party on Sixth Street in Madison.

The mother told officers at 5:20 p.m. Saturday that the girl refuses to talk with police, although police were told the girl was beaten and knocked unconscious during the attack. Police quoted the mother as saying the girl also refused to file charges against her assailant.

Many personalities become highlights of North-South game

Warriors run, kick their way to city crown, 31-0

By DOUG IRVIN
for the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY For two quarters here Saturday night, Granite City North gave notice to the football world that it was NOT an 0-7 team and almost gave cross-town rival GCHS South an early Halloween scare. But in the end, it was South which played more tricks on North. Aided by some unexpected "tricks" from the Steelers, the Warriors exploded for 16 third-quarter points and walked away with a 31-0 victory over North and the football championship of Granite City. The first half ended with South holding on to a narrow 7-0 lead and fans in Memorial Stadium felt it was going to be another in a long line of very close North-South games.

THE WARRIORS' first possession set up the first points. On second down, senior Pat Hogan bounced outside and ran 67 yards for six points. Bob Stiegemeier's PAT kick made the score 7-0.

The fans of Granite South jumped, screamed, and threw confetti when Hogan ran the 67 yards.

Of his team's first touchdown, South head coach Stan Wojcik said, "It was a play designed to off-tackle. But when Hogan saw the hole was clogged up, he veered to the outside and that was that."

The Steelers brought the ball to within the South 25-yard line at the end of the first quarter. On a run by North's Kevin Buchanan, North received a first down on the 19. Dan Patterson, North's quarterback, was sacked on fourth down and long yardage.

The second half was the kicker for South. North's offense lost a total of 10 yards rushing as the defense of South lived up to its reputation.

OF SOUTH'S six second half possessions, it scored on four of them. North, on the other hand, never crossed its own 45-yard line in the second half.

The Steelers' kickoff was returned by South's Mike DeGonia to the 26-yard line. Thirteen plays and one penalty later, Stiegemeier attempted a 42-yard field goal — good — 10-0. The distance is a new school record.

Ron Hecht of North returned Stiegemeier's kickoff to the 28. Patterson pitched on first down to Buchanan who was unable to hold on to the pithout and Kevin Greene of South recovered the ball on the 15 for the Warriors.

"WE'VE HAD just so much adversity this season," said a disheartened but smiling North coach Tom Wyroetek. "Tonight, we were playing good ball for half of the game then I could feel the momentum going to their (South's) side."

One minute later, the score was 16-0 after a one yard run by Scott Polson. The point-after kick was wide.

Stiegemeier kicked off and four plays later, Mike Root the punter of North boomed the ball to the Steelers 33-yard line. From the six-yard line on second down, Hogan broke several apparent tackles and went in for his second TD of the night. The point after kick pushed the score up to 23-0.

The third quarter ended with South having the ball on North's 38. Jeff Parker, quarterback for South, completed his second pass of the night, this one to Lee Heubner and for six points. Coach Wojcik decided to try for the two-point conversion and it worked as David Mahaffey ran it in, 31-0, with ten minutes remaining in the game.

WHY DID South elect to go for the two-point conversion when it already had such a large lead? "If we make it," said Wojcik, "it means North has to score three touchdowns and conversions to catch us."

Does that mean Wojcik still didn't feel secure? Even with a 29-0 lead? "I didn't feel secure until I saw three zeros on the clock and the ref threw me the game ball," laughed Wojcik.

At that point, North decided that it would not take any more from their sister school. North took the ball to its own 40 but was still forced to punt. South took over from the punt on its 16-yard line, brought it up to the 25 for a first down and backed up to the 20 after a holding penalty.

On the subject of North's current 0-8 record, Wojcik said, "It means that well many time and come back dry. I know that Tom's a helluva coach and will have the bulk of his team back for two more seasons."

"They'll be tough next year, and we have to play them twice, too." North and South will meet twice in 1979 because the new Metro Suburban Conference, in which both will plan to be members, will have only five teams. Two squads will have to face each other in football until a sixth team is found. By the luck of the draw, next season it'll be North and South.

GRANITE NORTH, on its last possession, brought the ball up to the 45-yard line. On fourth down, Root faked a punt and tried to run — but he was caught. Blake "Hondo" Ambuehl, the replacement QB for South, took over at North's 43-yard line with a minute to play.

Ambuehl handed the ball off to Mike Kramer and also to Jeff Berbrader. Those three took the pigskin to within the 20 when the time ran out and the fans went wild with unrestrained ecstasy.

South's leading rushers were Hogan and Mahaffey. Hogan carried 12 times for 110 yards and Mahaffey rushed 19 times for 82 yards. Buchanan, of North, rushed for 90 yards on 25 carries. Parker, playing safety for South, was the leading tackler with five solo and four assisted tackles.

WHEN DID WOJCIK know his season was turning around? "After we beat Collinsville (14-7 two weeks ago)," he said. "I think that's when the guys knew they could win. They discovered HOW to win."

Next weekend, the Warriors will face Madison at Madison High School and try to stretch their winning ways to four and finish with a winning season. Coach Tom Wyroetek of the Steelers will take his North team to Edwardsville and look for his first win. Both games are scheduled for Friday at 8 p.m.

The Madison game will be the Warriors' last game, but North has one more, West Frankfort at home the following Friday.

With the results of this game, South's record evened out to 6-8 and North's falls to 0-8.

Asked if he wished the season was beginning this week instead of eight weeks ago, Wojcik said with a grin, "Oh, do I."

"Do I ever."

football bragging rights for the coming year at stake. Granite City North assistant coach Bob Stiegemeier watched on as his son, senior defensive back and placekicker Bob Stiegemeier junior made some key tackles and kicked a 42-yard field goal for South as the Warriors romped to a 31-0 victory. "It's fairer this way," said a disappointed Bob Sr. after the game. "I'm glad I'm not coaching him (Bob Jr.)."

"If I were coaching him, I'd either have the tendency to be too easy on him or too rough on him," said Stiegemeier. "In my case, I think I'd be too rough."

What was it like the week before the game? "It was sort of played down all week at our house," said the senior Stiegemeier. "We didn't talk too much about it."

Seeing his son play such a key role in the defeat of his own team was tough on Bob Sr. "I'm really proud of him and happy he had a good game," he said. "But I'm just disappointed we couldn't have done a little better."

But for Bob Jr., there were no mixed emotions Friday night. "No sir, I didn't have any mixed feelings before the game? "It was sort of

But for Bob Jr., there were no mixed emotions Friday night. "No sir, I didn't have any mixed feelings before the game? "It was sort of played down all week at our house," said the senior Stiegemeier. "We didn't talk too much about it."

Seeing his son play such a key role in the defeat of his own team was tough on Bob Sr. "I'm really proud of him and happy he had a good game," he said. "But I'm just disappointed we couldn't have done a little better."

MIKE KRAMER of Granite City South (center) is corralled short of the goal line Friday night by North Steelers Rick Buer (35) and Jim White (67) during the Warriors' 31-0 city championship victory over North. Two plays later, however, South scored a touchdown on its way to the win.

GC runners finish 1-2-3 in North District harrier meet

GRANITE CITY — Granite City South's Dave Taylor surprised many cross country observers of the area here Saturday by passing favored Arthur Brooks of East St. Louis Lincoln to win the Granite City North-High School AA District championship.

But almost — if not more — surprising is the fact that Taylor was third, right on Taylor's heels.

South qualified its entire team for Saturday's Springfield Lanphier Section by finishing in the tie for first place with 141 points. The top five schools in district competition go on to sectional meets.

O'Fallon won the team title with 87 points. Belleville East was second with 95 points. East St. Louis Senior was third with 98 points, while South and Belleville West each finished with 141.

Houston won the meet, run on the course at Granite City High School North, in a time of 14:24.

But close on his heels was teammate Taylor in a time of 14:25.

Hickam finished third for North's Steelers in a time of 14:32, just a whisker ahead of Edwardsville's Ed Lamb who ran the course in 14:33.

Bruce DeHuntz of GCHS North was fifth in a time of 14:34, showing that the battle for the third through fifth could not have been much tighter.

Rounding out the top 10 individual finishers: Belleville West's Greg Kern sixth (14:35); Kent Pierson, O'Fallon seventh (14:36); East St. Louis' Kevin Nicholson eighth (14:37); O'Fallon's Paul Kilpatrick ninth (14:39).

Besides South's entire team, GCHS North's Hickam and DeHuntz will advance on to Saturday's Sectional at Springfield.

Whelan and Seebold will receive their awards, along with 18 other individual and honored guests at the annual St. Louis Sports Celebrity Night, Friday, Nov. 17 in the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel.

Also honored will be tennis star Jimmy Connors as the Number One St. Louis Sports figure of the year.

South's Bauer and Gabriel do well in state tennis meet

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS — The Granite City South doubles team of Christy Bauer and Susan Squires, bowed out in the first round of play. They fell to the duo of Nancy Ayres and Sally Mace of Lyons LaGrange High 6-2, 6-4.

In their first round match, Bauer and Gabriel easily defeated Karyn Blackmore and Donna Grunhard of Dolton Thornridge 6-1, 6-0.

However, in the second round, the South duo lost to Diane Lyons and Sharon Johnson of Oak Lawn Richards 4-6, 7-5, 6-4, in a hard-fought match.

In the first round of consolation play, Bauer and Gabriel defeated Vicki Jarrett and Rami Smith of DeKalb, advancing them on to the second round, where they easily handled Christie Fiesbig and Margo McFarland of Glen Ellyn Normal West by scores of 6-3 and 6-4.

Amy McLaughlin and Maria McKewen of Naperville were next to fall to Bauer and Gabriel, doing so in the third round by scores of 6-3 and 6-4.

In the fourth round, the duo from South found the going a bit rougher, but still came out on top with a victory over Sandy Sharp and Lori Weiller from Normal Community High, 6-7, 7-5, 7-5.

But Bauer and Gabriel's luck ran out in the consolation quarterfinals, losing to Mindy Cushing and Carolyn Barclay of Hinsdale Central, 5-6, 7-5, 2-6 below out of competition.

Hinsdale Central went on to win its third straight team championship.

Whelan, Seebold win top sports honors

ST. LOUIS — Granite City's Kris Whelan and Bill Seebold have been named 1978 Performers of the Year in their respective fields by the St. Louis area sports writers.

Whelan, a former wrestler at GCHS North and a freshman wrestler at the University of Missouri, was named wrestler of the year, while Seebold was named in the field of motor sports. Both Whelan and Seebold will receive their awards, along with 18 other individual and honored guests at the annual St. Louis Sports Celebrity Night, Friday, Nov. 17 in the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel.

Also honored will be tennis star Jimmy Connors as the Number One St. Louis Sports figure of the year.

Steelers breeze, Warriors squeak to shutout sub-sectional soccer victories

GRANITE CITY — For both Granite City High School soccer teams, Saturday was a successful day as far as advancing to Tuesday's IHSA sub-sectional championship games were concerned. Both North and South came through with victories. Both were shutouts.

But that's where the similarities end. Granite City North never had a close-call the entire game and easily handled East St. Louis Assumption 6-0. But on the south side of town, the GCHS South Warriors needed an all-out effort to squeak by with a 1-0 victory over unheralded Waterloo Gblauht. Just last week, Gblauht came through with a surprising 1-1 tie with North 6, Assumption 0. A great comeback by North's Glenn Edwards highlighted the Steelers' home victory against East St. Louis Assumption.

Edwards didn't have the best game of his career last Monday against Belleville West and wanted to make up for it. He did. The curly-haired Edwards got the "hat trick," and assisted on another goal as North advanced to tomorrow's sub-sectional championship game against Alton.

"Glenn's a real competitor," said North coach Bob Kehoe. "He creates much of the action out there on the field and makes things happen. I was pleased with the way he came back today."

Edwards opened the scoring for North early in the first quarter, at the 18:49 mark. He took a pass from teammate Jeff DeHoff (who had three assists during the game) and fired it past a sprawling Assumption goalie Joe Werner to put North ahead to stay.

Then at the 6:54 mark, it was Edwards' turn again. Taking a pass from Mark Jones, he boomed in a shot-to give the Steelers a two-goal margin.

"I thought we moved the ball better today than we had in recent games," said Kehoe. "All week long, we worked on a drill in practice in which a player is only allowed two touches before he must pass the ball off."

It was the fourth quarter that proved to be the explosive one for North. The Steelers scored much as possible today," said

Kehoe. "We really didn't dribble very much, that's because we were trying to stay within the two-touch theory."

With about six minutes remaining in the third quarter, North's Jay Verduine tried to kick a blocked ball near his own goal and went down in a heap. He was carried off the field and later taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital in Granite City for X-rays. "I'm not sure," said Kehoe, "but I think he might have done some ligament damage. But we won't know until it's been looked at closely."

The South rose . . . and how!

GRANITE CITY — The "Granite Rock" has returned to GCHS South. For only the second time in the five year history of the North-South football game, the Warriors have laid claim to the city championship of football.

And they did it in a big way here Friday night, trampling cross-town rival Granite City North 31-0. By far the most one-sided North-South game ever. Last year, North came out on top 17-7. In fact, in every game except the last two, the underdog team has emerged as the victor. But not this time for the South has risen again. With style.

Here's an amazing football fact... The quarterbacks on the winning teams in EACH of the last 7 Super Bowls have ALL worn the number 12 on their uniform... Here are the winning quarterbacks in the last 7 Super Bowls: Roger Staubach (Super Bowl 12), Ken Stabler (Super Bowl 11), Terry Bradshaw (Super Bowls 10 and 9), Bob Griese (Super Bowls 8 and 7) and Staubach (Super Bowl 6)... Every one of those quarterbacks wears number 12.

Of all the pairs of brothers who've ever played big league baseball, which 2 brothers do you think hit the most home runs? Was it the DiMaggios, the Waners, the Alois, or who? ... Answer is the Aarons — Hank and his brother Tommie — despite the fact that Tommie Aaron hit only 13 homers in his career... His brother, Hank, hit 765 to give them the highest total by 2 brothers in history.

Nate Dame set an amazing football record one season when they won all 9 games on their schedule even though they could never play at home that year... It happened in 1929... The new Notre Dame stadium was being built while the old one had already been dismantled, forcing the Irish to play all games on the road... Yet they went undefeated — the only unbeaten team in history that never played any home games.

Madison falls to Knights, 14-6

By JIM HEIDENRICH
for the Press-Record

TRIAD — Even though early last week Triad football coach Ted Cange was distraught over the team's many difficulties during the past five years, he was evaluating the future with optimism, looking to his youngsters to reverse the Knights' losing trend next year. Those youngsters, however, couldn't wait until next year.

Sophomores Tom Ladd and Bob King, junior Bob McNeill and nine other underclassmen wanted some of the action immediately. After battling Madison 6-0 for three quarters at Triad Friday, the youthful Knights scored two touchdowns the final period and defeated the Trojans 14-6.

Ladd was especially impressive as he scored both Triad touchdowns, completed eight passes in 10 attempts for 106 yards and rushed for 40 more. "I felt a lot more comfortable tonight," said the young signal-caller who inherited the starting

	Madison	Triad

Yards rushing	99	217
Yards passing	76	32
Total yards	175	209
Passing (at comp.)	7/4	10/7

job three games ago. "The first couple games I started at quarterback I had the shakes. And I didn't ever dream I'd score two touchdowns in a varsity game as a sophomore. But our offensive line just blew over the Madison defense the whole game."

Besides good blocking by the Knights' line, the fine play of King no doubt complimented the good passing of Ladd. The strong running back caught six of the eight aeriels for 69 yards and rushed for 40.

Cange was naturally elated with the play of his young people. "They all played great tonight," he said. "It's the first time in quite awhile that we had over 300 yards on offense. It just shows that we aren't quitters. And 1979 is going to be our first winning season."

"We know Madison was going to be at full strength for the first time all year and we worried all week."

The Trojans were indeed tough and it appeared the contest might end in a scoreless tie. But midway through the third stanza the Knights started playing with abandon.

Ladd capped a 54-yard march, which began in the third quarter, with a five-yard TD run at 9:22 of the final period. McNeill's boot split the uprights and Triad led 7-0. Madison scored a TD two minutes later on two long passes and a 12-yard run by James Heard to cut the Knights' margin to 7-6. However, the Trojans failed on a two-point conversion attempt and Triad kept the ball the remainder of the contest. Ladd scored his second touchdown on a one-yard sneak with 24 seconds left.

Brevin and his senior counterparts didn't want to waste an opportunity. The Knights won the second game of the season over Breese Central 19-6, then lost four straight games before drilling Madison.

The four consecutive defeats naturally dampened the Knights pre-season enthusiasm. But Cange emphasized during the losing streak that this year's team hadn't given up.

The next game for Madison will be this Friday at home against Granite City South beginning at 8 p.m.

Razorbacks win SIUE net classic

BELLEVILLE — The highly ranked (No. 9 in NCAA Division I) ranked Razorback tennis team of the University of Arkansas won the third annual SIUE-Oak Hill Racquet Club Tennis Classic over the weekend here with 23 points.

Next were the host Cougars of SIUE with 19 points. Coach Ken DeMars' SIUE team entered the final round of doubles needing a sweep to tie it up. The Cougars No. 3 team of St. Louis Scott Whaley and Farrukh Siddiqui came through with a three-set victory over Colorado's Hohn Evans and Wesley Griffin, 7-6, 2-6, 6-2.

Whaley also played well advancing to the finals of the No. 5 singles before bowing to Arkansas' Ron Hightower, 6-4, 6-0.

The Cougars' No. 1 singles player, Juan Farrow, also of St. Louis, won the No. 1 singles crown with a split set victory over Arkansas' Buddy Bowman, 2-6, 6-3, 7-5.

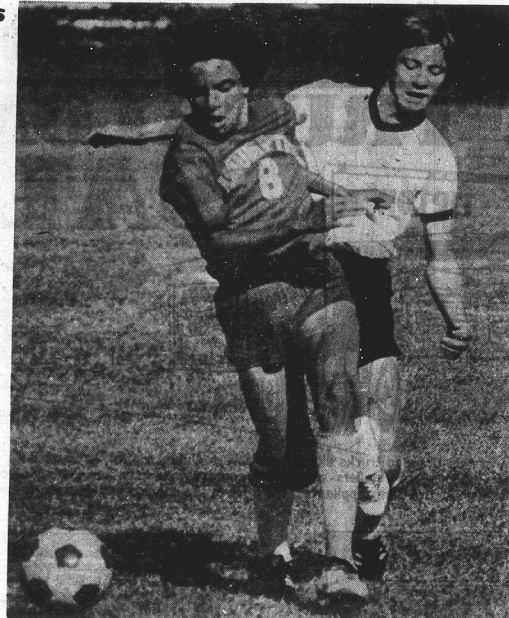

Bill Rusick, who starred for Granite City South in high school, had his finest hours as a Cougar as he captured the championship of the No. 4 singles play, whipping Greg Fess of Arkansas, 7-6 (5-3), 6-3.

In the lanky Rusick's second round match against Minnesota's Ted Kauffmann he was down 3-0 in the second set's tie-breaker and rallied to win the set, 6-2, 7-6 (5-3).

The Cougars' No. 7 player, freshman Ray Kusav of New Jersey, won the championship in the flight with a 2-6, 6-4, 6-2 victory over the Razorbacks' Steve Town.

High school senior, Darrell Smith of Belleville East, filled in to permit a full draw in the No. 7 singles, which didn't count, of course, in the final standings. Smith, not an impressive victory over Clemson's Orestes Baez, 6-2, 7-6, (5-3).

The two-day meet saw a lot of tennis. Competition started at 9 a.m. both Friday and Saturday. The tournament winner wasn't known until around 11:30 Saturday night.

RACING for the soccer ball Saturday afternoon at GCHS North's field is North Steeler Kenny Myracle (right) and an East St. Louis Assumption player. The Steelers easily handled the Pioneers 6-0 to advance to this afternoon's sub-sectional playoff game to be played at North beginning at 3 p.m. emotions at all," he said. "I wanted to beat North real bad. I was scared to death before the game," said Bob Jr.

"Except for last year, the underdog has always won the North-South game.

This year, South was given the best shot at claiming the city crown.

What about that 42-yard field goal Bob Jr. kicked midway through the third period which gave South a 10-0 lead?

"I wasn't sure if it was going to go through the goal posts," said Bob Jr. "It sort of started off as if it were going to go wide to the right, but it hooked back and made it through."

"But I knew it was going to be long enough," he said. "I've been kicking them from that far out all season in practice."

What about the person "caught in the middle" of the Bob Jr. versus Bob Sr. Stegemeier clash, wife and mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Stegemeier. Who was she rooting for?

"Me and North," said Bob Jr. with a grin. "Me and North."

On the subject of Stegemeier's 42-yard field goal, South coach Stan Wojcik looked over to this reporter immediately after the ball sailed through the uprights and said with a sheepish grin, "Never a doubt in my mind... that's his dad standing over there," pointing to the North side of the field.

One-and-a-half for two? South quarterback Jeff Parker thought he was two-for-two in the passing department when he was reminded that on his touchdown pass to Lee Huebner in the fourth quarter, the ball was actually fumbled and then recovered for the score. It counted as a reception.

FATHER AND SON. Bob Stegemeier Sr. (right), an assistant football coach at GCHS North, puts his arm around son Bob Jr. Friday night after his son's South squad defeated his own Steelers 31-0 for the city championship. Bob Jr. kicked a 42-yard field goal for South and played a key role as a defensive back.

South coach Wojcik termed the performance of his team as "unbelievable."

"I was expecting absolutely anything to happen," he said. "Heck, we almost put as many points on the scoreboard tonight as we had all season before this one."

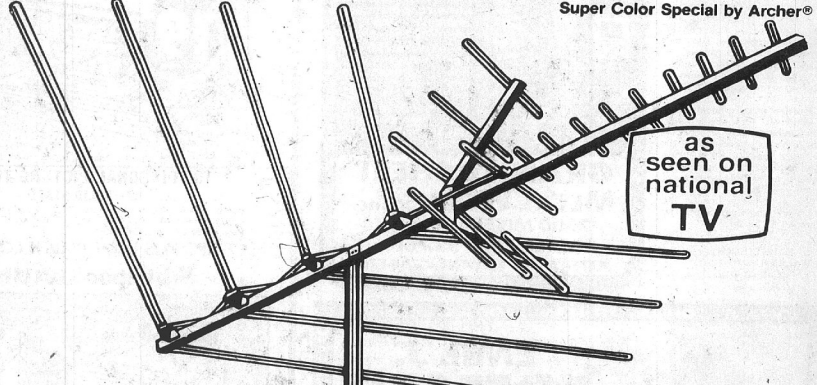

To what does Wojcik attribute his team's sudden offensive revival? "Blocking," he said. "I know I've been saying the same thing all season, but we finally got some blocking out there and our offense started working."

Self-serve stations to capture half of market

More than half of all retail gasoline sales in the U.S. will be self-serve by the mid-1980s, while the declining number of service stations will level off at about 100,000, Amoco Oil Company's director of marketing research is predicting.

John A. Stitzel said many of the 160,000 stations "will be substantially different types of units than the network of 225,000 full service stations with repair bays that constituted the gasoline retailing network of 1972."

In remarks delivered at Boca Raton, Fla. to the National Association of Petroleum Investment Analysts, Stitzel said:

"The industry system of service stations will be much more specialized as marketers strive to serve their respective segments. There will be more gasoline only, pump-type facilities specifically designed to feature self-serve gasoline."

Stitzel noted that the percentage of self-serve gasoline has climbed from 15 percent in 1975 to 45 percent in 1978, an increase of nearly 200 percent. He said these factors accounted for the increase:

"Lower price, not surprisingly, is the principal reason given for using self-serve. However, less waiting and getting in and out faster are strong secondary reasons. Also, significant numbers of motorists in fact prefer and enjoy taking care of their cars themselves."

"Finally," Stitzel said, "a few motorists also like the hours of operation and configuration of typical self-serve outlets." Stitzel said the implications of these motorist preferences and the growth rate for gasoline sold through self-serve pumps are that the gasoline retailer must "bring in that hurried, price-conscious motorist and get him in and out of the pumps with as little confusion as possible."

However Stitzel said that Amoco, with its nearly 24,000 independent branded outlets, believes "the predominant customer segment is still attracted to the product quality, total car services, and credit card convenience associated with a branded service station."

"We believe that for many motorists these values will remain in force for a long time to come. And the marketing answer to the large quality-conscious segment of motorists is to remain brand name marketers."

"Looking to the future, Stitzel said, Amoco has adopted a strategy for the 1980s of a segmented marketing approach which will enable the company to deliver the type of facility best suited to each location."

He explained that in a given market at a specific site the best service may be rendered by a traditional full-service station.

In another location, a split-island self-serve and full-service with repair bays may be needed. A gasoline-only pump may be appropriate for many locations. And many facilities will feature non-traditional associated businesses such as mini-convenience stores.

"Whatever the situation calls for, we will do our best to match the facility to needs of the customer base that the dealer and the station will serve," Stitzel said. "This fine tuning of our service station mix to accommodate the needs of the public will be a central part of our individual marketing decisions through the 1980s."

Sandy Wilson's musical comedy, "The Boyfriend," will open the 1978-79 University Theater season at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, under the direction of Alaine J. Wiltz III, associate professor of theater and dance at SIUE.

The production has been called "a delightful spoof of the English musical comedies of the 1920s." The plot revolves around the romances and flirtations in a young ladies' finishing school in Nice, along the French Riviera.

Kelly Fries of Belleville stars in the title role of Tony, the boyfriend. Polly Browne, the girlfriend, is portrayed by Kari Ely of Normandy, Mo. Other cast members include Lynne Moon and Robbie Scoggins of Belleville; Linda Grad, Kathy McGrath and Don Papp of Edwardsville; Tom Myrda, Fairview Heights; Joe Huber, Alton; and Elisa Byler, St. Louis.

Gwen Harris of Granite City will portray Madame Debonnet, and Lynn Kluth of Edwardsville will play the role of Percival Browne. Dennis Smith of Morrisville and Melissa Toberman of Edwardsville will portray Lord and Lady Brookhurst.

The play will open Wednesday, Nov. 8, at 8:15 p.m. Additional performances are scheduled Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 9, 10 and 11 at 8:15 p.m. A matinee performance will be given Sunday, Nov. 12 at 2:30 p.m. All performances will be presented in the Communications Building theater at SIUE. Nearby parking is available.

Admission is $5 for adults and $2 for senior citizens and students. For children under 12 and SIUE students, admission is $1. Additional ticket and group rate information is available by calling the University Center Ticket Office at 618-692-2320.

Halloween feature on Channel 9

The undead take over prime-time in style on Halloween night, as Channel 9 provides three hours of fright just before the witching hour of midnight. Louis Jourdan stars as the eternally infamous vampire, Count Dracula, in this Great Performances "encore extra" on Tuesday, Oct. 31, 8-11 p.m. (Repeated at 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 6.)

The televised Count Dracula is a further reflection of the vampire-mania currently sweeping the country. The long-running Broadway version of "Dracula" has now added national touring companies, and will soon be turned into an all-star film.

Jourdan, usually thought of as a romantic male lead, says, "I've tried to make Dracula as attractive as possible. After all, he does promise his victims eternal life. Like so many evil people, he really believes he is doing good."

Miss Susan Mae Hull and Kevin L. Davis are wed

Miss Susan Mae Hull, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hull Sr., 2377 Washington Ave., and Kevin L. Davis, a son of the Rev. and Mrs. Paul J. Davis, 1665 Fifth St., Madison, were united in marriage on Aug. 25, at the First Baptist Church in Madison.

Rev. Davis, father of the groom, performed the double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. in a candlelight setting.

Wedding music including "If," "Sunrise, Sunset," "Lady My Sweet Lady," and the Lord's Prayer were sung by Claude Smith. He was accompanied by Delores Perry, a cousin of the groom, at the organ.

For her wedding, the bride wore a full length white organza A-line style gown designed with an Empire bodice, high neckline and bishop sleeves, accented with Venice lace.

Scalloped lace edged the chapel train and fingertip veil attached to a Juliet headpiece. She held a bouquet of red roses and baby's breath.

Maid of honor was Melinda Hull, a sister of the bride. Bridesmaids included Miss Diane Harris, Miss Lisa Brame and Miss Valerie Hull, another sister of the bride.

They selected A-line polyester dresses in rainbow colors featuring Empire bodices and pleated skirts, complemented with chiffon capelets with high necklines enhanced with a daisy motif.

Debra Fisher attended the guest book and Karen Cook distributed rice packets. Both are cousins of the bride.

Trial offers chance to clear the air regarding sheriff's administration; courts need to fight current aura of fear

Innocence of indicted persons must be presumed prior to trial jurors' decision, which will be based on the evidence and testimony.

Within this concept, it is possible to applaud the fact that indictments were issued Friday at Springfield by the Southern District of Illinois U.S. District Court grand jury. Regardless of the outcome of the mid-December trial, it would have been highly unusual if the massive investigation had not progressed farther than a single trial at which three former Madison police were convicted.

Certainly, by their decision not to testify at the June-July trial, Sheriff John Maeras and Sheriff's Captain John Cooper already had placed themselves in the center of the spotlight of public attention. Now, they will have the opportunity to be found innocent or guilty, depending on the facts of the matter rather than public speculation.

It is interesting to note the close relationship between the summer trial and the allegations to be aired in court this winter. It also is interesting that some of the incidents referred to in Friday's indictments occurred as recently as Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

The allegation repeated most frequently in the 12-page grand jury document is that Ronald Grzywacz and John M. Cooper had not performed said investigation, but had solicited and received payoffs from Maeras from operators of houses of prostitution, taverns, service stations and towing companies. The investigation—described in past statements—dealt with "alleged payoffs to deputy sheriffs," with Cooper and Grzywacz merely observing evidence on such alleged transgressions by deputies, they had contended.

If there was a scheme to force or accept payoffs in exchange for distribution of towing or service station business, or for ignoring the enforcement of tavern or vice laws, the public's right to impartial law enforcement was threatened by individuals seeking personal gain. It will be up to the courts to decide.

An especially unsavory aspect of recent developments in Madison County is the atmosphere of fright—tangible and wholly unrelated to tomorrow's make-believe ghoulsh terror. Halloween horror has developed in real life for many persons who think others may want to prevent them from testifying before authorities.

Donald Ellington, alleged to have been knowledgeable about vice and underworld activity, was executed in gangland style last week. This was a past grand jury witness and attended this summer's trial regularly.

Other persons are in fear of their lives, and it would appear that their feelings are genuine, whether unfounded or not. The fear cited is a broader matter than the Maeras-Cooper trial, but those responsible for conducting it and the continuing federal investigation of "corruption by law enforcement officers and others" would do well to give prompt thought to such concern and its impact on the judicial process. It will be testified in June preferred to be jailed for a long period rather than going on the witness stand.

Effective steps ought to be taken now to avoid violence and to give the greatest possible assurance that justice will prevail.

'Yes' vote appropriate on three Nov. 7 ballot questions

Quid Cityans won't have to give excessive thought to the "yes or no" questions facing them in the general election Tuesday, Nov. 7. All justify an affirmative vote and are favored to carry statewide, although the first may be so complex that some voters will be confused about it.

On the purchaser voting system to be utilized in Madison County, citizens are being urged to vote Yes, No, 9, rather than the negative No. 10. The purchaser voting system is a personal property tax amendment to Section 5 of Article IX of the Illinois State Constitution, giving more time in which to incorporate personal property into the tax base.

Individuals and families are unaffected directly, but could see their tax burden worsened if such a key element of the overall tax base is lost. Schools and other governmental agencies say changes could result if the amendment fails to pass. Legislators who have failed to write a budget during this decade would be in a bind until Jan. 1, 1979, to do so. They might wind up with an inappropriate law under the pressure of this deadline.

Yes (No. 18) is favored over No (No. 19) on exempting veterans organizations' post homes from property taxes—Section 6 of Constitutional Article IX. The state charter of general government grants property, local government and school district property, agricultural and horticultural societies' property, as well as property used exclusively for school, religious, cemetery or charitable purposes.

Congressional-chartered veterans groups are seeking to have taxes ended on their property used exclusively for post office on taxes and spending by the state, in recognition of their past members of the armed forces and their service in the cause of liberty.

Yes (No. 17) is expected to swamp No (No. 18) votes on a question of public policy—shall legislation be enacted and the constitution amended to impose certain taxes on the state, and school districts of local governments and school districts? The proposal is advisory in nature.

Known as the "Thompson proposition" and attempting to capture the spirit of California's Proposition 13, it will set no arbitrary limits but may encourage future specific property tax legislation to form a reasonable balance between private belongings and tax-financed services.

Breakfast

He said unions now back accelerated tax depreciation for new plant equipment because of awareness of its role in maintaining and expanding employment.

Urging that America drastically reduce its balance-of-payments deficit of $46 billion yearly as well as sharply trimming the federal deficit, Sen. Percy asked for increasing federal exports from $24 billion to $50 billion annually.

Saying that it was a mistake in 1969 to raise the capital gains tax from 25 to 49 percent, the speaker said it is essential to restore the equity market as a source of capital funds rather than forcing firms into debt. He praised Kennedy Administration tax cuts as stimulating economic recovery for the nation.

Sen. Percy urged increased financial incentives for research and development and greater emphasis on productivity and product quality. Noting some progress in discouraging below-cost dumping of foreign steel, he asked and was told that Granite City Steel is operating at "full capacity."

Following questions from the audience, the senator said the Department of Health, Education and Welfare is too large at 145,000 employees and absorbs 96 percent of its budget to health and welfare. He called for establishment of a separate Department of Education.

Saying he would counter reasonable amendments to the U.S. Clean Air Act, the veteran legislator and former Bell and Howell Co. board chairman said he and other senators are committed to blocking adoption of new federal regulations unless there is an evaluation of their overall effectiveness.

Sen. Percy said his campaign has encountered financial problems because an early poll showing him winning by a 2-1 margin "dried up" much of his potential contributions. He added that he is inviting local campaign donations and also is encouraging citizens to contact "everyone on their Christmas card lists" and urge his reelection Nov. 7.

Conceding that recent surveys show he may be trailing, Percy assailed his opponent for hiring a New York television advertisement writer who had authored the 1964 TV commercial depicting presidential candidate Barry Goldwater as setting off nuclear warfare while a child was picking a flower.

While jokingly accepting a "presidential draft" from the audience, Percy said he has reached a point in his Senate service in which he can do much good for Illinoisans and Americans, and is eager to serve out a third six-year term.

Brief talks were given by State Representative Everett Steele, Daniel Stok, candidate for Congress, and Gerald Cobb, nominee for circuit judge.

Miss Johnson

Johnson, a sister of the victim, collided at the intersection. Jerry Johnson was a passenger in her sister's car.

The compact car caught fire in the motor compartment and a passing motorist helped the two young women from the car. They were taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital where Jerry Johnson was transferred to the St. Louis hospital.

Declarator also was taken to the hospital where he was treated and released.

In addition to her parents and sister, Miss Johnson is survived by her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Walter (Adele) Stephens of Granite City, and aunts and uncles.

A True Bill.

supporting evidence had disappeared after Dennis Nicholas, acting chief deputy for the sheriff department, died in 1972.

Grzywacz testified again before another federal grand jury at least two days last week and then resigned from the sheriff department.

Sources close to the investigation indicate Burns testified again Friday morning and the grand jury indicted Maeras and his chief of field operations, Capt. Cooper, last night.

Many have obtained purported copies of a letter dated Feb. 1, 1974, and signed by "Sgt. Gary Lee Burns," believed to be a copy of the letter about which Burns testified to the 1977 grand jury.

Burns was promoted to lieutenant after Maeras allegedly obtained a copy of the letter.

Sheriff Maeras said Saturday, "I'm innocent. I guess I'll have to go to trial. He added that he had "no idea" last week that he was about to be indicted.

Initially elected as sheriff in 1970 and re-elected in 1974, he served as sheriff from 1960s as Madison County treasurer. Maeras has been an active politician for many years. He has been indicted at a number of political gatherings this fall.

Younger brother of the late Madison Mayor Stephen Maeras, who was one of the most powerful political leaders in the region, John Maeras not only has maintained his own innocence but also has declined to suspend a large number of deputies named in various ways in trial testimony and exhibits.

Maeras' staff to honor him at a retirement party at the County Jail in Madison. "We're not going to desert the man" was the comment of public information officer Lieutenant Robert Hertz, who has taken charge of field operations as well.

When asked if he will resign before the term ends, Maeras responded, "I haven't given it a thought. I haven't talked to anybody."

Madison County Board Member Daniel Farney and some other officials have been pushing for a shakeup in the sheriff department in view of the long federal investigation. But a deputy on leave of absence was asserting as late as last October that "no one from the department has been indicted, and no one is going to be."

The deputy on leave criticized the Press-Record for publishing detailed portions of trial transcripts, including statements to the Internal Revenue Service. However, Friday's indictment centers around such topics as the IRS and Federal Bureau of Investigation investigations.

While originally lacking the kind of political base that his late brother had developed, John Maeras has been a relatively popular official, developing friendships and associations throughout Madison County.

No newspapers endorsed him for reelection in 1974, but he won by a big margin over a little-known Republican in this heavily-Democratic county.

Pontoon board overrides dismissal of treasurer

The Pontoon Beach Village Board Saturday voted unanimously to override the dismissal of the village treasurer, Mrs. Loretta Skinner, thus thwarting the second attempt in two years by Village Board President Floyd David Moss to dismiss her. At a recessed meeting at 10 a.m. Saturday, Moss read a letter in which he cited several statutes he alleges the treasurer violated and announced he was dismissing her from her duties. Trustee Paul Bennett immediately made a motion to override the firing and Trustee Loren Madison seconded it. Voting with Bennett and Madison were Trustee Donald C. Rea and Trustee Keith Biggs, giving the motion the required two-thirds majority.

Trustee Duane Skinner, husband of the treasurer, voted "present" to avoid a conflict of interest. Trustee Raymond Gaudette Jr. was absent. Moss dismissed Mrs. Skinner in October of 1978, but the board immediately reinstated her. The first firing was seen by some residents as retaliation against Trustee Skinner, who was among those who passed a resolution asking for Moss' resignation two weeks earlier. At that time, a serious split developed in the board and Moss' opponents sought Moss' resignation, saying his job required he be gone from the village too often to do his job properly. Moss since has changed jobs.

Moss was unavailable for comment this morning. In other business, the board voted Saturday to hire a professional tree trimming firm to trim trees on Lake Street, at a total cost of $975.

Halloween parades tonight, Tuesday

The annual Halloween observance in the Quad-City area will include two parades and operation of four haunted houses, beginning with a march through Pontoon Beach Village streets tonight, under the sponsorship of the Lionsess Club of Pontoon Beach.

All participants are to gather at 6 o'clock to register at Gaslight Shopping Center. A panel of judges will rate the costumes and select first, second and third place entries for "best costume" and "most original" in three age groups — 1 to 5 years, 6 to 10 years and 11 to 13 years.

Judy Wasson, Lionsess parade chairman, said the march will be from Laura Drive to Gaslight Walk, east on Gaslight Walk to Lake Drive, then west on Pontoon Road to return to the shopping center for judging. Granite City Moose Lodge 272 will sponsor its annual costume parade in Downtown Granite City, with contestants of all ages asked to assemble from 7 p.m. to 7:15 p.m. Tuesday at the City Hall, 1300 block of Niedringhaus Avenue, to receive assigned contest numbers.

The parade will get under way at 7:30 p.m. led by the Rolling Nobles of Ainal Shrine Temple.

Don Seitzer, Moose parade chairman, said the judges for the 1978 parade will include Mayor Paul Schuler, Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis and Envoy Elmer Trapp, acting director of the Tri-Cities Salvation Army Corps. Women of the Moose Chapter 247 members will attach contest numbers to the paraders for identification by the judges. First, second, and third place awards will be presented in three categories — "best dressed," "funniest" and "most original."

In addition, a total of 35 consolation prizes will be available to the marchers, it was noted.

In the event of rain on Tuesday night judging and presentation of awards will take place under the canopy of the First Granite City National Bank, 20th Street and Edison Avenue, the chairman added.

"Haunted" houses which will be open today and continue through Halloween night, Tuesday, Oct. 31, include the "Haunted Castle" provided by Explorer Scout Post 10-4, sponsored by the Madison Police Unit 110, at 1441 Madison Ave. The castle is open from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

"The Old Haunted Firehouse," located at Amos Street and Nameoki Road, is being presented by Explorer Scout Post 10-33 sponsored by the Granite City Police Department. Hours also will be from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m.

The Jaycees "Haunted House," 1855 Poplar St., is open from 6:30 until 10:30 p.m. Admission fees at each of these three houses is $1 per person 12 years of age and older, and 50 cents for children under age 12.

A fourth haunted house, sponsored by the East Bank Players will be open today and tomorrow night from 7 to 11 p.m., at Plaza Shopping Center, 2424 Nameoki Road, across from Kirkpatrick Homes.

I.S. asked to aid GC in housing rehabilitation in downtown area

A public program designed to revitalize Granite City's central business district by rehabilitation of residential property in the downtown area would be financed by Urban Development Grant (UDAG) funds now being sought by city officials, it was explained last week in a program outline referred to the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

Arvil Taylor, administrative aide to Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, said the housing rehabilitation program also will be supported by private capital in the form of low cost loans by the program.

Granite City is asking the Housing and Urban Development Agency for a total of $1,000,000 in UDAG funds, of which $1.3 million would be used to help finance the cost of building the proposed overpass between downtown and West Granite City—a project which is considered vital to the success of any rehabilitation of housing or revitalization of industry and business in the downtown area.

The balance of $600,000 would be used to provide funds to conduct the rehabilitation program. These would include $250,000 for low-cost housing rehabilitation loans, $100,000 for rehabilitation grants, $200,000 for a rental property rehabilitation rendering fund, and $50,000 for administration.

Taylor, who prepared the program outline and application for UDAG funds, said the project also has been referred to the Illinois State Clearing House and to the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission. The city has filed a request with HUD for permission to file the grant request, a procedure necessary to securing UDAG monies.

The program outline filed with East-West Gateway explains the rehabilitation plan as follows: Originally the downtown business and residential areas were designed to adequately meet the needs of the families of the men who worked in the factories that had located there. In recent years, however, the city has experienced a major change in its residential and commercial structure as all new growth has occurred in the north and northeastern portions of the community.

This shift was due primarily to the older central core becoming inaccessible from the west due to a severe auto-rail conflict at Niedertown Avenue, 19th Street and 20th Street, the only streets into the area from the west.

This shift has resulted in a decline of the residential areas surrounding the downtown area. An extended period of disinvestment has occurred which has led to these original residential areas containing the highest concentration of homes in the city needing major repairs and/or major rehabilitation.

At a time when the community is experiencing a population growth lag primarily because it cannot provide adequate housing options for people in the 25-35 year age group, it has become imperative that steps be taken to preserve these original residential neighborhoods.

However, if the community expects to halt the decline of these residential areas it must also remove the barrier to the marketability of the area imposed by the auto-rail conflict which restricts the accessibility of the area.

Granite City's Urban Development Action Plan is focused upon the revitalization of downtown residential neighborhoods in order to expand the housing options available to the residents of Granite City.

This will be accomplished by taking the necessary steps to attract private dollars back into the area at a level that will have a significant impact upon the housing stock and extend its service life as residential property.

Furthermore, the program is designed to enhance the private rehabilitation efforts that have taken place in the last five years and will also serve to attract expanded employment opportunities through industrial development in the southwest corner of the project area.

An analysis of the project area has shown that two things must occur if the downtown residential areas are to be revitalized:

1) The 19th Street Overpass must be built; and

2) A source of low cost financing must be made available for housing restoration and rehabilitation activities.

In both instances there are public and private dollars that have been made available but not at levels sufficient enough to insure the revitalization of the downtown neighborhoods.

Therefore, UDAG funds will be used to leverage existing commitments and attract the additional dollars needed to preserve the housing stock in the project area and restore the viability of the entire central core of the city.

The primary strategy for Granite City's UDAG program is to intervene in the deterioration process which has caused a period of disinvestment in the project area, particularly with respect to downtown residential property. Public action is needed because private market factors are not conducive to encouraging the activities needed to overcome the effects of deterioration and disinvestment upon these older neighborhoods.

The UDAG program will use a three pronged attack designed to remove the effects and some of the major causes of the deterioration that has occurred. First, it will provide the additional funds needed to construct the 19th Street Overpass hereby improving the accessibility and marketability of the downtown central core. Second, it will assist local financial institutions in making low cost housing rehabilitation money available to homeowners for needed repairs to their property and to upgrade the rental property.

Finally, the entire revitalization effort will attract new employment opportunities through either new industrial development or the expansion of existing facilities. When implemented, Granite City will have initiated a program that not only insures the preservation of an adequate supply of moderately priced, safe and sanitary housing but will also have restored the vitality and attractiveness of the entire downtown area.

The overall goal of the Granite City Downtown Neighborhood Revitalization Program is the preservation of the existing central core with particular emphasis being placed upon the restoration and rehabilitation of the housing stock in the residential neighborhoods.

UDAG funds will be used to remove impediments to private investment, halt deterioration of residential properties, and to restore the area's attractiveness and marketability. Within this context the following specific objectives of the UDAG program have been identified.

1. To eliminate the adverse effects that rail-auto traffic conflicts have upon the downtown Granite City and the adjacent residential neighborhoods by constructing the 19th Street Overpass.

The completion of the project will benefit the marketability of the residential area as well as commercial and industrial expansion.

2. To provide a source of low cost financing for residential properties in the project area. A combination of interest subsidized loans and grants will provide low and moderate income persons with an affordable means of financing needed repairs.

3. To stabilize the residential neighborhood surrounding the St. Elizabeth's Hospital complex.

4. To assist private developers in providing rental housing units that will attract middle income persons back into the city's older residential core. This will bring about an improved socio-economic mix and will contribute to long term stability in the area.

Other related objects are:

5. Improvement of the fiscal situation of the city and its ability to render services to its residents through stabilization and improvement of property values.

6. Expansion of employment opportunities due to industrial development in the western end of the project area as a result of the construction of the 19th Street overpass and in the eastern end of the project area.

The 19th Street overpass is a top priority project because it is crucial not only for achieving the revitalization of downtown residential areas but also for the expansion of the city's industrial activities.

The construction of the overpass will contribute significantly to the marketability of the project area by improving accessibility. It would provide a direct connection to the Great River Road which ties into I-270 and I-55 just across the McKinnon Bridge in Missouri. This connection places downtown St. Louis, the center of the metropolitan region, within 15 minutes of the project area.

Many of the structures in the project area were built in the early 1900's to meet the housing needs of the industrial workers. While they still serve as permanent residences, they have begun to experience stages of deterioration that are not conducive to private reinvestment in the properties.

In the summer of 1976 Madison County's Department of Community Development conducted a St. Louis consulting firm to perform a conditions survey of residential structures in the county. The results of that survey show that the project area has a very high percentage and concentration of housing units that need either major repairs or major rehabilitation.

The primary reason that these repairs are not being made is the lack of an adequate source of funds for the low and moderate income people to use.

Granite City in cooperation with downtown banks will provide two programs to assist private homeowners, Low Cost Housing Rehabilitation Grants.

Downtown banks will make $1 million dollars available as principle for rehabilitation loans on eligible project area homeowners. UDAG funds will be used to subsidize the interest rate on the homeowner loans.

The program will be paying between 2 percent and 5 percent for the money. This rate will be determined based upon family size and family income.

Project area residents will be made aware of the program through an intensive public information program. Those interested would apply for a loan through one of the participating institutions. The banks would then review the application and make a recommendation to the Housing Rehabilitation Committee on the financial capability of the applicant. Final review and approval would then be made by the Housing Rehabilitation Committee.

Many of the structures in the project area were built in the

City saves $5,000 in signal project

An ordinance that would have appropriated $5,000 for the engineering work for installation of a new crossing signal at St. Clair Avenue and Jill Avenue was withdrawn by the City Council last week.

The decision to cancel out the motor fuel tax appropriation came after Monroe Brewer, city engineer, told the council that it is possible the city engineering department can handle a "standard" crossing signal design without calling in outside help.

The signal is located in the Sixth Ward and was authorized on a motion by Sixth Ward Alderman Gerald Parmley last month after parents and school officials of St. Margaret Mary School appeared before the council to discuss traffic problems in front of the school.

Sister Maria Monica, principal, told the council at that time that traffic has become so congested on St. Clair Avenue that it has become difficult for crossing guards to stop traffic and that something should be done "before someone is injured or killed."

Council members two weeks ago passed a resolution on signal, and at that time held up action on the appropriation of $5,000 for engineering work.

Several aldermen questioned the expenditure of $5,000 for engineering design if the work could be handled by the city engineering department. Assistant City Engineer Edward Schuman told the aldermen that engineering design of traffic signals is a specialized work and that the city engineering department was not equipped to do the designing.

It was suggested that the Illinois Department of Transportation might aid the city engineers in such work, but the city engineer replied the DOT never offers such assistance.

Alderman Warren Decatur suggested that the appropriation be held up until the DOT could be contacted regarding the project.

Last week Brewer said that by using a standard traffic signal design, his department probably could work out an installation program for the St. Clair-Jill location.

As a result, the appropriation was withdrawn.

Brice McGriff dies at 86

Brice McGriff, 86, of 2903 Poplar Ave., a self-employed landscape gardener until he retired, died Thursday at 8:15 p.m. at Colonnades Nursing Home. He had been a resident at the facility three years.

Born in Capp, Mo., Mr. McGriff had lived in California for many years prior to moving to this area.

Mr. McGriff was a World War I veteran having served with the U.S. Navy, and belonged to an American Legion Post in California.

Survivors include one sister, Mrs. Carrie Downins of Adelaide, Calif.; a stepister, Mrs. Maude Grady of Iberia, Mo.; and nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

40¢ fare plan being challenged

The Bi-State Development Agency board voted 7-2 Friday to raise bus fares from 25 cents to 40 cents, effective Dec. 4 unless it can get more funding from St. Louis and St. Louis County.

Both have limited their aid to Bi-State from their half-cent transportation sales tax.

Bi-State gets some revenue from the U.S. and the Illinois General Assembly and has sought to balance its budget, but now projects a $6 million deficit by the end of its fiscal year next June 30.

A Missouri Senate committee is beginning two days of hearings today at the Soldiers' Memorial, 1315 Chestnut St., on why the bus fare needs to be increased.

It points out that the city and county have $13 million in their transportation sales tax accounts. The U.S. and the Illinois two governmental bodies are seeking the right to appoint Bi-State commissioners, instead of the Missouri governor picking five of the ten.

In other business, Bi-State received word that its 546 new bus shelters will be installed starting in February and completed by July 1979.

Calories do count

Counting calories is a favorite pastime among those of us who want to lose weight. But how many of us know exactly what is a calorie?

The term "calorie" is used as a unit in expressing the energy-producing value of food. When we say that a tablespoon of honey contains about 65 calories, it means that the honey, when utilized by the tissues of the body, will release that amount of energy to be expended in bodily activity.

The American Medical Association points out that the usual weight-reduction goal of one or two pounds per week is achieved by a daily intake of 500 to 1,000 calories less than the intake needed to maintain the weight at which reducing was begun.

Caloric needs are an individual affair and your diet should be worked out in consultation with your physician. He can help you arrive at a reasonable figure, permitting at a loss weight steadily and gradually, and at the same time maintain good health and not go hungry.

Caloric charts will help you decide in determining what you can eat, and in what quantity, to maintain your desired daily intake. Some diet specialists recommend five to six small meals a day, rather than two or three large ones.

Keep in mind the nutrient values of foods selected. When total food intake is restricted, it is important to choose those foods that will provide optimal nutritional value with a minimum amount of calories. Caloric tables can be useful, they should not be the sole basis for selecting foods.

Whatever program your physician prescribes for you, there is one important thing to remember — calories do count. To lose weight we must spend more energy than we take in.

Don't ask why

DAN FOGELBERG and TIM WEISBERG — Twin Sons of Different Mothers (Epic) — Dan carries a heavy load on this one, what with composing the songs as well as singing and playing piano and guitar. But then the lovely flute of Weisberg can't be discounted. This is one of those musical combinations that works beautifully — and it's best not to ask why. Just listen.

Emphasis on academic skills cuts enrollment

President Kenneth A. Shaw commented last week on the strengthening of academic standards at SIUE and the impact on enrollment.

He said 1,171 students who were receiving financial aid were identified earlier this year as not making satisfactory academic progress. Of the group, more than 120 students were notified they could not receive financial aid during the fall quarter because of their academic standing.

Nearly 1,000 other students in the group were advised they would receive financial aid during the winter quarter only if they maintain at least a "C" average with 12 credit hours during the fall quarter. Affected persons were required to sign "performance contracts."

Pres. Shaw said 32 percent of the identified group enrolled despite the new restrictions that make financial aid contingent on academic performance. But about 800 of those notified did not return to the university.

University officials also cite the lack of available housing in the area as a reason for restraints on enrollment. According to the University Housing Office, more than 425 persons are on a waiting list for housing at the Tower Lake Apartments on campus.

The Admissions and Records Office said many students who were admitted to the university did not complete enrollment, apparently because they live too far from campus to commute.

Fall quarter on-campus enrollment for credit has been in the 11,000 range for three consecutive years. A significant upward spiral has been noted in the number of over-30 students.

With approximately 1,100 enrolled in this age category in the spring of 1972, the number of over-30 students now stands at 1,800.

The average age of students at SIUE is now over 26 years.

Fall quarter statistics reflect a continuing trend toward an increasing percentage of women enrolling at the university. Currently, there are 5,079 males enrolled, and 5,554 female students.

Last year at this time, there were 5,601 females attending classes at the university. Enrollment of veterans has decreased 50 percent since GI Bill education benefits began expiring two years ago.

During the fall of 1975, 2,480 veterans were enrolled at SIUE. This fall, 1,287 veterans are enrolled.

There is a slight increase in the number of part-time students this fall (3,678). Increases also are noted in the number of new freshmen (1,289) and graduate students (330).

By schools, the largest gain is in the number of business majors — now totaling 1,113.

Other schools registering increases include Fine Arts and Communications, Nursing, Science and Technology, Dean's College and Dental Medicine.

Overall fall quarter enrollment of 13,253 includes about 800 students in off-campus credit programs and another 1,720 students in non-credit continuing education courses.

The on-campus credit enrollment of 10,633 is 4.7 percent less than last year's 11,162.

Most students in off-campus credit programs are taking courses leading to the master of business administration degree at Military Airlift Command bases around the nation.

In addition to those courses offered at nearby Scott Air Force Base, Belleville, bases currently offering the MBA program include: Altus AFB in Oklahoma; Bethesda Naval Hospital in Maryland; Chanute AFB in Illinois; Charleston AFB in South Carolina; Dover AFB in Delaware; McChord AFB in Washington; McGuire AFB in New Jersey; and Norton

Macrame class

"With the holidays fast approaching wouldn't it be a terrific idea to make a gift for a loved one? A macrame class teaches the basics dealing with knots, which can teach one to make gifts in wall-hanging, handbags, and even jewelry.

"Starting Thursday, Nov. 3, while that certain someone is watching Thursday night television, come down to the YMCA between 7 and 9 p.m. for three consecutive Thursdays of macrame classes," Program Director Donald R. Rains said today.

"Carol Wilson, an SIU student, is the instructor. She will provide a display of pieces to show what can be done with macrame.

"Cost of the class is $7.50 and Carol will discuss the materials one would need for a particular project. For further information, people can call the 'Y' at 876-7200."

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT BALLOT

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTION 5 OF ARTICLE IX (Personal Property Tax)

Explanation of Proposed Amendment
The personal property tax now is imposed on corporations, partnerships and trusts, and any replacement taxes must be imposed on them. Individuals have been exempt from the personal property tax since 1971, and replacement taxes may not be imposed on them.

Article IX, Section Six of the Illinois Constitution now requires that the legislature abolish all personal property taxes on or before January 1, 1979 and simultaneously replace the abolished taxes with new taxes sufficient to replace revenues lost by local governments and school districts.

The proposed Constitutional Amendment eliminates the January 1, 1979 date for abolition and replacement of the tax. Further, the proposed Amendment makes permissive, rather than mandatory, the requirement that the legislature abolish the tax. This Amendment does not change the requirement for replacing the personal property tax in the event the legislature abolishes it.

For the proposed Amendment to Section 5 of Article IX of the Constitution.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTION 6 OF ARTICLE IX (Veterans Organizations' Post Homes Exemption)

Explanation of Proposed Amendment
This proposed Amendment to Article IX, Section 6 of the Illinois Constitution would allow the General Assembly to exempt from property taxation "property owned exclusively for post homes of Congressionally chartered veterans' organizations."

The Constitution now permits property tax exemption only for:
1. State property;
2. Local government and school district property;
3. Agricultural and horticultural societies' property;
4. Property used exclusively for school, religious, cemetery or charitable purposes.

For the proposed Amendment to Section 6 of Article IX of the Constitution, to permit exemption from property taxation of post homes of Congressionally chartered veterans' organizations.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT BALLOT

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTION 5 OF ARTICLE IX (Personal Property Tax)

Repeal of Proposed Amendment
The personal property tax now is imposed on corporations, partnerships and trusts, and any replacement taxes must be imposed on them. Individuals have been exempt from the personal property tax since 1971, and replacement taxes may not be imposed on them.
Article IX, Section 5(c) of the Illinois Constitution now requires that the legislature abolish all personal property taxes on or before January 1, 1979 and simultaneously replace the abolished taxes with new taxes sufficient to replace revenues lost by local governments and school districts.
The proposed Constitutional Amendment eliminates the January 1, 1979 date for abolition and replacement of the tax. Further, the proposed Amendment makes permissive, rather than mandatory, the requirement that the legislature abolish the tax. This Amendment does not change the requirement for replacing the personal property tax in the event the legislature abolishes it.

Candidates have been exempt from the personal property tax since 1971, and replacement taxes may not be imposed on them. Article IX, Section 5 of the Illinois Constitution now requires candidates to pay the personal property tax on or before January 1, 1979 and simultaneously replace the abolished taxes with new taxes sufficient to replace revenues lost by local governments and school districts.

The proposed Constitutional Amendment eliminates the January 1, 1979 date for a abolition and replacement of the tax. Further, it proposed Amendment makes permanent, rather than temporary, the requirement that the legislature abolish the tax. This Amendment does not change the requirement for replacing the personal property tax in the event the legislature abolishes it.

For the proposed Amendment to Section 5 of Article IX of the Constitution.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTION 6 OF ARTICLE IX (Veterans Organizations' Post Homes Exemption)

Explanation of Proposed Amendment
This proposed Amendment to Article IX, Section 6 of the Illinois Constitution would allow the General Assembly, to exempt from property taxation property used exclusively for post homes of Congressionally chartered veterans' organizations.

The Constitution now permits property tax exemption only for:
• State property;
• Local government and school district property;
• Agricultural and horticultural societies' property;
• Property used exclusively for school, religious, cemetery or charitable purposes.

For the proposed Amendment to Section 6 of Article IX of the Constitution, to permit exemption from property taxation of post homes of Congressionally chartered veterans' organizations.

Brands you can depend on. Savings you can count on.

Kroger stores offer many of our own brands as well as a wide variety of national brands. Today more than ever we believe it will pay you to get to know more of the Brands of Kroger.

Many of our own brands are made and packed in our own plants. Others are packed for us elsewhere, following our rigid specifications and carefully spot-checked by Kroger's own Quality Assurance department and by independent laboratories. And, since what counts is results, we have consumers "blind-test" them — that is, compare them with other brands without knowing which is which.

Not all of our brands carry the Kroger Brand label. Kroger Brand labels appear on products we consider to be equal or better than one or more leading national brands. Some of our other brands (such as Avondale, Embassy or Clover Valley) are offered as lower-priced alternatives which many people find quite acceptable in quality.

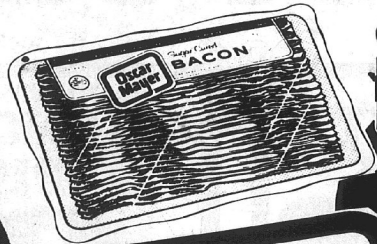

The brands of Kroger are offered at prices lower than those of national brands, practically without exception. With our lower distribution and selling costs, prices at the store can be lower too — it's that simple.
